The captioned individual is a [station manager of] the Cubana Airlines, Idlewild International Airport, New York City. Recently Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) submitted a name check request concerning [Beliard]. Liaison was requested to determine the purpose of this request. (C)

On June 23, 1961, Mrs. Jane Roman, CIA, advised the Liaison Agent that a Cuban source had suggested to CIA that [Beliard] possibly could be of some use to the Agency in connection with its operations in Cuba. Mrs. Roman stated that essentially CIA's interest would be to obtain assistance from [Beliard] in arranging courier routes between Cuba and the United States. (C) CIA is of the opinion that [Beliard] through his contacts in the Cubana Airlines and because of his possible association with individuals who travel regularly between the two countries, could arrange for CIA to communicate with clandestine sources inside Cuba. (C) The Liaison Agent requested CIA not to establish any contact with [Beliard] pending further word from the Bureau. (S)
